

Annual Report

Empowered MINISTRY | Biblical ANSWERS | Global IMPACT

2010-2011

From the President

Sowing and reaping are familiar biblical images. Harvest never comes immediately, and rarely are growing conditions optimum indefinitely. That process of sowing and reaping has been going on at AGTS since the summer of 1973, when the first courses were offered to AG world missionaries. Thousands have studied here since then. These students have become well-equipped pastors, missionaries, chaplains, counselors, bivocational ministers and scholars whose work serves Christ's kingdom with distinction. You will find in this annual report a snapshot of this year's continued work of sowing and reaping. The mission of AGTS to shape servant leaders continues to be critical as we face daunting 21st century challenges. We are grateful to serve this Fellowship with knowledge on fire!

AGTS awards first intercultural studies doctoral degrees

AGTS awarded its first Ph.D. in Intercultural Studies and Doctor of Missiology (D.Miss.) degrees at its 38th annual commencement on April 30.

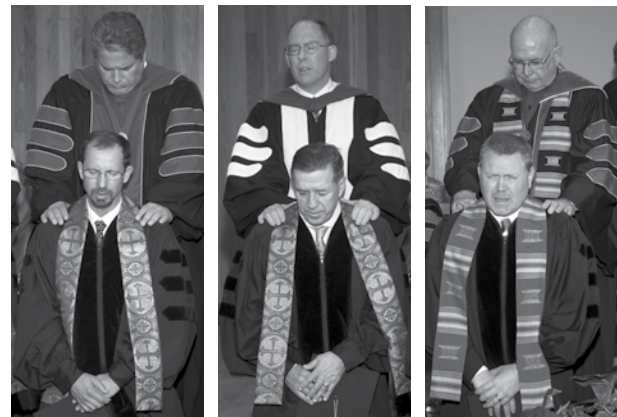

Graduates of these programs were honored at a private Intercultural Doctoral Studies Investiture Ceremony on April 29.

"The 1914 General Council of the Assemblies of God committed itself to the greatest evangelism the world has ever seen," said President Klaus, "solidifying this central focus in the DNA of AGTS from its inception. The fact that our first research terminal degree is in intercultural studies illustrates our deep commitment to global missions as a seminary."

Speaking of the investiture ceremony Klaus said, "This day is not about the fact that we have finally arrived as a Ph.D.-granting institution. Rather, it is about faithfully representing a spiritual movement and keeping our historical partnerships and commitments vital with thoroughness of theological reflection and contextual research."

"This seminary's missionary heritage," Klaus continued, "is reflected in our commitment to develop servant leaders with knowledge, skill and passion to revitalize the church and evangelize the world in the power of the Spirit."

AGTS ANNOUNCES NEW PH.D. IN BIBLE AND THEOLOGY

AGTS is proud to announce a new Ph.D. in Bible and Theology (Ph.D./BT), with classes starting in summer 2011.

This doctorate will equip and empower Pentecostal scholars to lead the global church through creative teaching, writing and other missional endeavors. This highly selective program will challenge participants to integrate the highest levels of intellectual achievement with biblically focused, contextual praxis. Concentrations include Biblical Theology, Old or New Testament Studies, Systematic Theology, Historical Theology and Global Pentecostal Theology.

Key developer Dr. Charlie Self said, “Our Ph.D. faculty are irrevocably committed to the authority and inspiration of the Bible, the centrality of the local church as God’s primary agency for mission and a Spirit-empowered life marked by supernatural expectations and experiences.”

“This Ph.D. will propel many into academic leadership in organizations around the world,” said President Byron D. Klaus, “qualifying women and men to lead institutions that empower effective ministry.”

The newly approved Ph.D. is the fourth doctoral degree offered by AGTS. The Doctor of Ministry was inaugurated in 1997, the Doctor of Missiology in 2007 and the Ph.D. in Intercultural Studies in 2009. These Ph.D.s are the first independently offered by an Assemblies of God educational institution in the world.

Dr. Charlie Self (associate professor of church history), President Byron D. Klaus and Academic Dean Stephen Lim look over the Ph.D./BT proposal.

For more information about the Ph.D./BT, contact Dr. Charlie Self at 1-800-467-AGTS or send an email to cself@agts.edu.

AGTS is accredited regionally by the Higher Learning Commission and by the Association of Theological Schools in the United States and Canada.

D.Min. program growth due to specialized cohorts

AGTS is thankful for growth in the Doctor of Ministry (D.Min.) program, which has also helped to increase the school's net tuition revenue.

The success of the D.Min. can be attributed, in part, to the unique concentrations available. The D.Min. team, led by Dr. Cheryl Taylor, crafts new concentrations by studying current trends and emerging needs in ministry and Christian leadership.

Besides Missional Leadership, Biblical Preaching, Military Chaplaincy, Professional Life Coaching and Women in Leadership, two new concentrations were added this year—Worship Studies and Pastoral Care.

AGTS's accreditation reaffirmed for another 10 years

After a comprehensive evaluation visit in March, the Association of Theological Schools (ATS) and the Higher Learning Commission (HLC) have reaffirmed AGTS's accreditation until 2021.

AGTS has been accredited with ATS since 1992 and HLC since 1978 and was last awarded accreditation with each in 2001. In order to complete the 10-year reaccreditation process, AGTS, under the direction of Academic Dean Stephen Lim, completed an in-depth self-study report demonstrating how the seminary meets the standards of ATS and the criterion of HLC.

Dr. Doug Lowenberg to be 2011–2012 Hogan Professor

Dr. Doug Lowenberg will be the 2011–2012 J. Philip Hogan Professor of World Missions at AGTS. Doug and his wife, Corrine, are 16-year missionaries to Africa currently serving in Kenya. He has short-term missions experience in more than 50 countries in South America, Africa, Europe and Asia.

Doug is the dean of the East Africa Graduate Studies Centre; chairman of the Biblical Studies Department at the East Africa School of Theology; and a nonresident lecturer at the Pan-Africa Theological Seminary.

Prior to Africa, Doug pioneered a church and served for 16 years as an administrator and faculty member at North Central University, Minneapolis, Minnesota.

Financial Highlights (May 1, 2010 through April 30, 2011)

1 A good year

Total operating revenue: $4,704,021
Total operating expenses: $4,684,200
Operating surplus: $19,821

3 A step forward

Total net assets: $5,339,124 (a $336,974 increase over the previous year)

2 Thankful for growth

Net tuition revenue: $2,799,215 ($138,971 increase from previous year due to more doctoral hours sold)

Buntain, Kraiss, and Trasher recognized as Pillars of the Faith

The AGTS Pillars of the Faith program honors men and women who have dedicated their lives to serving Jesus Christ and have followed the call of God in ministry, missions and the training of ministers. One would be challenged to find three more deserving candidates than Dr. Fulton Buntain, Dr. Wayne Kraiss, and Rev. Lillian Trasher. They have each carved out enduring legacies through their selfless dedication to pursue God's call in their lives.

Alumni chaplains gather in Springfield

AGTS welcomed more than 65 alumni at a reception held during the AG Chaplaincy Conference in Springfield. Administrators, faculty and staff enjoyed connecting with alums who are serving as military, prison and hospital chaplains. More than 200 AGTS alumni currently serve as chaplains, with over 170 endorsed by the AG.

“AGTS made a real difference in my pastorate”

by Mark Akers (M.A. 2011), pastor, Victorious Life Assembly of God, Lewisville, Texas

AGTS has made a real difference in my pastorate. Growing up, my pastor's model of church was “Love God, love the people, pray a lot, preach the Word, and the church will grow.” That is the model I carried with me for most of my ministry; yet I found that this approach had limits. The growth we experienced did not remain. There was something missing.

I started looking for that missing piece. I attended all kinds of church-growth seminars. I've been Maxwell-ized, Hybel-ized, and Warren-ized. These approaches emphasized pieces of the puzzle, but I could never get all the pieces to fit into a unified whole. By attending AGTS and the Orlando Branch cohort, I finally got a working model of how all the pieces fit and flow together—a workable model of what church life is supposed to look like.

Over the last 24 months, since my attending AGTS, our church has grown 36 percent. On Easter we had more than 500 people in attendance—which, for us, is a big deal. Sure, getting them in the building is only the first part of the process—and frankly, the easiest part. Now we know what to do with them once they have come.

Read Akers's complete testimony at agts.edu/link/akers1011.
