

Assemblies of God Theological Seminary
Doctor of Ministry Core Course 2
PTH 902 Biblical Theology in Ministry
Feb 21-25, 2011
Course given by: Doug Oss, Ph.D.

Course Description:

This course gives special attention to developing the skills and methods of biblical theology for the study of Scripture and equips the student to successfully complete the biblical-theological component of the D. Min. Project. The course also explores the role of biblical-theological reflection in leadership, ministry development, and preaching.

(NOTE: If possible, it would benefit the student to establish a direction for his/her D. Min. project prior to this seminar. The seminar paper for this course may be used to meet some of the requirements for Chapter 2 of the project rubric.)

Course Objectives:

Upon successful completion of this seminar the participant will be able to:

1. Define biblical theology as a method.
2. Explain the structure of biblical theology.
3. Explain and evaluate the major presuppositions of biblical theology.
4. Apply the methods of biblical theology to the Scriptures.
5. Incorporate insights from biblical theology into sermon content.
6. Synthesize biblical teaching on a motif or type.
7. Incorporate biblical-theological insights into the core values and development of ministries in the local church.
8. Formulate core values for leadership and vision in the light of biblical-theological reflection.

COURSE REQUIREMENTS & PROCEDURES

A. Pre-session (Raising the issues)

1. Complete assigned reading

Prior to coming to the course, participants should read each book from the textbook list in its entirety. The purpose of the pre-session reading is to acquaint the participant with the major motifs and paradigms for doing biblical theology.

Participants must complete the reading no later than the last day of the course. Completion of the reading is required to receive a passing grade.

Note: It is a violation of academic policy to include in the required reading any books previously read for credit. If you have read any of the required texts for credit, please substitute another book from the course bibliography.

2. Write a 5 page critical reflection essay on the readings.
Write a reflective essay describing how various aspects of the reading can help you define New Testament ministry. The paper should capture your overall response to the readings, highlighting 3-5 major concepts which had the greatest impact on your thinking. (The essay does not require a book-by-book discussion.)

B. Session (Wrestling with the issues)

1. Submit a statement of completion for the required reading to the professor by the last day of class. Partial credit will not be given.
2. Attend all class sessions, and take an active role in classroom interaction.
3. Turn in your critical reflection essay by the last day of class.
4. Be prepared to provide a brief (3-5 minutes) oral summary of this paper in class.

C. Post-Session (Biblical-Theological Research Project)

Write a 25-30 page research paper constructing and explaining the unfolding of a motif in the progress of revelation (If this vocabulary usage is new to you, it will become familiar through the readings and course content on the first day of class.). The paper will draw on the readings, class sessions, and the participant's own research. The finished paper should reflect a high level of academic excellence in research, exegesis, and biblical-theological method.

All written work is to be formatted according to the Turabian style manual 7th edition, http://www.amazon.com/Manual-Writers-Research-Dissertations-Seventh/dp/0226823377/ref=sr_1_1?ie=UTF8&s=books&qid=1263911618&sr=1-1. Writing from previous academic work may not be recycled. The D. Min office can recommend a Turabian editor, as well as a writing coach.

Post-session project due date:

- *A hardcopy of the post-session paper must be delivered to the D. Min Office postmarked no later than May 6, 2011.
- *Please do not use email.
- *All papers should include a cover sheet with title, course information, name, address, and email.

LATE WORK

Any participant may have a two-week extension for the paper simply by requesting it. After that, the maximum paper grade will decline by one letter grade for each week beyond the extended due date.

POST-SESSION PROJECT GRADING

1. Cogency
Are the major assertions clear, specific, adequately supported, and well organized? 20 points
 2. Creativity
Do the major ideas represent original and insightful formulation? 20 points
 3. Depth
Are the ideas in the paper important and substantial, reflecting significant research and high-quality, formulative thinking? 20 points
 4. Quality
Is the writing clear, compelling, professional, and consistent with Turabian standard? 10 points
- Total: 70 points

COURSE GRADING

An “A” is awarded for outstanding achievement in a paper of publishable quality worthy of a reputable, peer-reviewed, academic journal; a “B” for a good effort; a “C” is marginal, etc. Grading is a composite of points earned in each phase of the course:

| | | |
|----------------------|------------|----------------------|
| Pre-Session Reading | 20 points* | 92+ points = A |
| Session Involvement | 10 points | 82+ points = B |
| Post-Session Project | 70 points | 72+ points = C, etc. |
| Total | 100 points | |

Completion of the reading is required to receive a passing grade. No partial credit will be given.*
